If your Outlook 2013 does not support PTT (The remote call was not answered, for instance), you need to install the Outlook PST Merge software. It can automatically merge the senders, recipients and calendar entries of two PST files. For example, if you are getting an error message like "the remote call was not answered", you can use the Outlook PST Merge software. Of course, you also have another option to transfer your emails to Gmail account. Thanks for reading! Turn off Outlook "Recent Items" or "Recent Tasks" tab in Outlook 2013 if it is not working like it should. This will allow you to save every email you receive, as well as every email you send. To see your sent items: - Click your Inbox and then click More Options. - Click Tools, and then click Options. - Click the Folders tab, and then click More. - Click Manage Folders. - Select Sent Items folder. - Click Options. - Click Visible. - Click OK. This will make your sent items and sent meeting folders visible. If you can't find these two lists, make sure your email program has been set to receive all your email. Now, select each individual email or meeting in your sent folders or the Recent Items/Recent Tasks tab. Then, click the Copy button at the top of the window. Now, paste the emails or meetings into Notepad or Notepad++ for easier access. If you have all your sent items in Notepad, click on all your items and then select Send/Receive. Then, select Send
